Unpopular opinion: Stop Pandering for Younger, Women, Minority Membership

Jeff Daly, Podcast Host at The American Legion | February 6, 2023

I can't tell you how upset I'd be if someone invited me to a special event that served fried chicken and had a hip-hop artist in a room of people that wanted to hear a country band.

Is it far off for a Post consisting of older folks putting in a video gaming rig, thinking that this is their solution for recruiting young people?

Today, less than 1% serve. In my (unpopular) opinion, we are better served if we treat ALL VETERANS as a singular subset of the population. The division and fabricated big problems only serve to segment the already relatively small demographic of VETERANS.

I thrive in a Post that has a younger population. In fact, we have more Gulf/Post 9-11 than we do Vietnam. We have a diverse membership that spans race, gender, sexual orientation, age, religious background, combat experience, and plenty of other demographics that I'm neglecting to list. Could we do better? Absolutely, but I don't think creating special programs where the aim is to attract (dupe) specific demographics is the way to go. I think that is a masking agent of the real problem that some Posts have.

Whatever you think the (insert demographic) is looking for, it's likely part of a bigger issue that should be addressed. Examples? Certainly...

 I hear that some women "don't even know that they're eligible." News flash, there are many men that don't know that they are eligible. It wasn't until the LEGION Act that anyone that served during the Cold War was eligible and many still don't know that they are. The solution isn't to broadcast the false narrative that

- women aren't welcome. The solution is better marketing that includes women along with men to show that they are welcome. More on marketing, in a bit.
- 2. Almost every day, I hear that younger people don't want this and are looking for that and this/that is why they aren't joining. The fastest-growing small veterans organizations all have similarities in that they DO THINGS. Many Posts have boiled down to meetings and bar nights and their overall attendance has fallen, not just with the youngins. People, in general, want to do things. People show up to volunteer. People show up for blood drives. People show up for group hikes. People show up for events. We are, at any age, mission-orientated folks. Give us things to DO and we'll show up.
- 3. I hear that you'll encounter horrific racism in Posts. I specifically heard that about my Post...sometimes from Veterans of Color IN my Post. The reality is that I have heard the N-word, used one time, by an older vet, when I was new. I reprimanded him immediately and he's been as nice as possible for years. Maybe he still uses the word at home with his other friends, but not in my presence and hopefully not at anywhere near a Legion event. He even told me that he was excited to vote for me when after about 4 ½ years, I became the first black Commander of my Post.
- 4. I see issues with people establishing and superior class of "combat veterans" as well. There are some specifically focused non-profits that work with that subset and are doing great things, but I don't think large orgs should focus on that. I only care that someone signed the oath, served honorably, and continues to serve. I know of people who died in or have been severely injured in non-combat roles. I know people who never left North America. All of them signed an oath that they WOULD.

Carlton 'plunges' into role as SAL national commander

The American Legion | February 9, 2023

SAL National Commander Christopher Carlton's first thought when he ran into the water for his first polar plunge: "This isn't bad."

Then reality set in.

"My brain told me, 'Hey, crazy, it's cold!' That's when I decided to run back out from the water," Carlton recalled.

BETTONE | Round-Up

Carlton's chilly experience came Feb. 3 as part of the Maryland State Police Polar Bear Plunge during the commander's visit to the Detachment of Maryland. The polar plunge is a fundraiser for Special Olympics that annually raises more than $3 million for the charity.

SAL National Commander Christopher Carlton leads Department of Maryland President Carmin Brittain and Department Commander Ron Holcombe to the water before the Maryland State Police Polar Bear Plunge at Sandy Point State Park.

SAL PNC Joe Gladden noted on his Facebook page that the temperature was 33 degrees with the water temperature 43 degrees and wind speed of 20 knots.

Carlton said "it felt amazing" to participate in the polar plunge with Department Commander Ron Holcombe, Detachment Commander Larry Ford, and Department Auxiliary President Carmin Brittain.

"Every detachment that I have visited has been a wonderful experience," Carlton said. "I have felt included not just as a participant but more like part of their family — helping where I can, laughing with them and knowing I was a part of what they are doing.

"No matter where I am, I am always reminded that just because I might be a member of Squadron 495 in Indianapolis, I'm a member of the Detachment of Indiana, which is part of a national organization. No matter where you are at, no matter what post you walk into, you can walk in knowing everyone there believes and feels the same way about our nation's veterans, their families, and the future of our great nation."

The commitment comes from within; orders come from above. You have no control over that, and I don't regard segmentation, outside of organizations that are specific to that, as productive.

Liz Hartman and I. We are from different coasts, genders, races, etc. We are also from Ohio and Michigan, so we should be blood enemies. Despite all of these things we are veterans and Marines first! :)

None of this is to say that the collective evil of racism, sexism, and homophobia doesn't linger. I mean, they lingered in the military, and they linger in society. We can't make them vanish, but we can make them unsavory to the point where the culture doesn't reward such thoughts. Preaching division, in my mind highlights differences, artificially magnifies the problem, and makes it seem like any efforts to the contrary, aren't worth it.

There's no doubt that our membership numbers are suffering, so it's understandable that folks will posit and preach as to the cause. We've been doing that for several years and it's not working. Similarly, the Marine Corps has been the only branch lately to meet its recruitment goals and they are the only one not drastically changing how they deal with young recruits. They are just as unreasonable, tough, unrelenting, and destructive to mind and body....and YOUNG folks keep signing up. I think veterans service organizations, including the American Legion, need a similar focus on the missions that The American Legion engages in. National is the supposed "legacy org" that I hear some people talk about. They do the good work in lobbying and creating a national presence. The Posts really do need to DO STUFF for their veterans, but also with their veterans, as we serve "community, state and nation."

Even doing stuff isn't enough. With so few having served, the pool from which to recruit is like the 2021 water reservoirs in California...drying up. When we do stuff, we need to talk about what we do. That's all in the marketing. We don't do that enough. I don't see enough of the good work that Posts do, shared on social media or reported in bigger media. Ask those youngins for help with social media. Give them something meaningful to do and their efforts will attract the attention of new members for you

I can tell you that all of this is true, from experience. I spoke at LA Film School to their GI Bill students and told them about things we do that might help them as professionals, veterans, and good citizens. Several of them have already joined and even have a team in our Member Made Media short film competition. We had an article recently in the newspaper and it's everywhere and we're getting member and business interest. Just because you might not read the paper, doesn't mean that someone else doesn't. I've run into 2 or 3 that read it from an actual, physical newspaper, but that story was digitally making the rounds, as well.

So, the point of this extended missive is:

- Serve ALL veterans
- Do stuff
- Make sure people know that you do stuff
- Stay on mission

THIS is how you attract young members, older members, and female members, and minority members, and combatexperienced members, and...

State of the Union: 'We've got to do more' to stem veteran suicide

The American Legion | February 8, 2023

Some of The American Legion's highest priorities for veterans – career opportunities, help for the homeless and suicide reduction – were shared and amplified by President Joseph Biden in his State of the Union Address Tuesday night.

"Let's do more to keep this nation's one truly sacred obligation – to equip those we send into harm's way and care for them and their families when they come home," Biden told the nation before listing some of the ways that care can take shape. "Job training. Job placement for veterans and their spouses as they return to civilian life. Helping veterans afford the rent because no one should be homeless in America, especially someone who served the country."

Biden noted that when he appointed Department of Veterans Affairs Secretary Denis McDonough in 2020, "We were losing up to 25 veterans a day on suicide. Now, we are losing 17 a day to the silent scourge of suicide ... VA is doing everything it can, including expanding mental health screening and a proven program that recruits veterans to help other veterans understand what they are going through, to get them the help they need. We've got to do more."

Veterans represent no less than a quarter of Biden's fourpart Unity Agenda announced in his first State of the Union Address last year, and suicide prevention has been a focal point for his administration and The American Legion's nationwide Be the One initiative.

"The American Legion is pleased that the White House is bringing needed attention to the tragedy of veteran suicide," American Legion National Commander Vincent J. "Jim" Troiola said after the address. "More than 71,000 veterans have taken their lives since 2010. It's time we stop focusing on that horrific number and instead focus on the one veteran we can save."

Troiola said it's imperative that at-risk veterans seek help when they need it, without worry about stigmatization. "As a society, we need to let veterans know that it is OK to not be OK. We ask all Americans to 'Be the one' to encourage any veteran in crisis to call 988 (ext. 1) and take the path toward mental wellness."

Troiola also applauded Biden's recognition of veteran-to-veteran support at VA. The American Legion's Buddy Check peer-support program has been conducted by nearly 4,000 local posts a year since its 2019 inception. An omnibus bill passed in the waning days of the 117th Congress in December requires VA to conduct a National Buddy Check Week each year to connect veterans with the resources they need, and with each other. "The American Legion believes that Buddy Checks are an effective preventative tool that saves veterans' lives," Troiola said.

'Be the One' takes center stage at California revitalization

The American Legion | February 7, 2023

Military veterans, servicemembers and their families in and around Merced, Calif., are invited to a special Veterans Awareness Campaign that will include free VA claims assistance, discussions on reducing the rate of veteran suicide and more.

5 BE⊞ONE Round-Up

The event takes place from Feb. 17-19 at American Legion Post 83 at the Veterans Memorial Building, 939 W. Main St. in Merced. Officers and staff members from National Head-quarters and the Department of California, along with local post members, will be available throughout the three-day event.

On Feb. 18, American Legion Post 190 member Jeffrey Freeman and Department of California Chaplain Dave Whalen will present on the organization's Be the One initiative. The goal of Be the One is to reduce the rate of veteran suicide by reducing the stigma of mental health treatment and empowering everyone to "Be the One" to act accordingly when the life of a veteran is at risk.

Freeman, who shared his story of surviving a suicide attempt on the Tango Alpha Lima podcast, and Whalen will discuss Be the One at 11:40 a.m. and again at 3:40 p.m. on Feb. 18.

Other day-by-day highlights include:

- 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, Feb. 17: Accredited American Legion service officers will be available to assist veterans and their families with VA claims and other questions related to benefits. Additionally, a membership outreach program will be conducted at this time.
- 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 18: Guest speakers will address a number of topics including VA benefits

- claims, veteran housing, assistance available for victims of natural disasters, American Legion Baseball, American Legion history and more.
- 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 19: Accredited American Legion service officers will be available to assist veterans and their families with VA claims and other questions related to benefits. Additionally, a membership outreach program will be conducted at this time.

Each day, there will be food and coffee available for a minimal purchase.

New York state commander making 'Be the One' a priority

The American Legion | February 8, 2023

When he was elected American Legion Department of New York Commander last year, David R. Riley Sr. made Operation Comfort Warriors (OCW) his primary cause. Riley had been a strong supporter of OCW since 2013 and wanted to continue that support.

But then Riley learned about "Be the One", The American Legion's suicide prevention initiative aimed at reducing veteran suicides through destignatizing asking for mental health support. He recognized the importance of the cause and wanted to do his part to spread the word, so he has shared the "Be the One" message at every one of his stops during his tenure as state commander.

He also wanted to support the mission of a fellow New York Legionnaire, National Commander Vincent J. "James" Troiola, a life member of American Legion Post 1682 in Rockland County. During his acceptance speech at the 2022 National Convention in Milwaukee, Troiola made tackling veteran suicides his No. 1 priority for his year. "I think the platform The American Legion started with ("Be the One"), and with Jim being from New York, I kind of wanted to mimic what he was doing," Riley said. "The Department of New York has a history of always trying to support the mission of the national commander, and we follow through on that.

"When 'Be the One' rolled out, it just made sense to add it to my (projects). I even changed my whole message around it. I give every visitation with 'Be the One' as a big part of it. It's important."

Riley, a member of Harry P. Smith Post 24 in Rome, the Legion's suicide-prevention initiative comes at the crucial time. "We've got to stop all of the (veteran suicides). It's crazy," he said. "When you look at the statistics and how many people it's affecting, it's a lot more than people realize.

"I think people thought (the most recent wars were) fought behind the scenes with drones and stuff like that. I don't think they realized how much our troops were actually on the ground and how much it's been affecting them, to the point where the multiple tours just kept adding up and adding up. I had two friends who each (deployed) five different times. That's a lot."

Riley and fellow New York American Legion Family leadership – Department Auxiliary President Nancy Babis and Sons of The American Legion Detachment Commander Timothy Van Patten II – travel together and have visited 53 of New York's 62 counties so far.

At the stops, Riley provides the opportunities for posts and counties to donate to his project. He's collected $17,000 for OCW and almost $15,000 to support "Be the One" already. He'll present the final amounts on the floor of the national convention in Charlotte this summer.

But it's not the money collected that's stuck with Riley during his visits. "I've had on my visitations several people come up and talk about loved ones that had (died by) suicide, and that they're glad we're doing something and bringing it to the front," he said. "It's very moving. You kind of don't know what to say. You listen to them talk. That's all you can do."

In addition to what Riley has raised, the Department of New York set aside $1.5 million last summer to provide grants to nonprofits that work with at-risk veterans to assist them before they consider suicide. Those grants included assistance with homeless veterans programs; to support RTM Protocol therapy, a non-drug, non-traumatizing treatment that re-programs the neurological connection between the brain's feeling center and specific traumatic memories; and most recently to EquiCenter Mustang Mission program, which assists veterans who are dealing with the physical and emotional effects of combat with the use of mustang horses.

"What I like about this ("Be the One") campaign is that The American Legion started it at the top, and they're pushing it down to the local level," Riley said. "And that's what you want: for the local post to be more educated. And that's what we're doing."

PASSION PURPOSE

Post 105 Family observes Four Chaplains Sunday

Rusty Myers, Squadron 105 Adjutant | February 5, 2022

KEARNY, NJ – American Legion Post 105, Sons of the American Legion (SAL) Squadron 105, and members of the American Legion Auxiliary interest group seeking a charter at Post 105 were honored to attend the Four Chaplains' Mass at Saint Stephen's RC Church in Kearny. The mass commemorates the service and sacrifice of who became known as the Four Chaplains on February 3, 1943 – one of which, Father John P. Washington, was actually assigned as a priest to Kearney's Saint Stephen's.

The Four Chaplains - Methodist minister Rev. George L Fox, Reform Rabbi Alexander D. Goode, Catholic priest Father John P. Washington, and Reformed Church in America minister Rev. Clark V. Poling - all served as US Army Chaplains in the first year of World War II. In January of 1943, they set sail from New York along with 900 other soldiers headed for Greenland aboard the USAT Dorchester, a troop transport which was part of a larger convoy. On the morning of February 3rd, the ship was torpedoed by a German U-boat. The ship immediately began sinking quickly.

The chaplains were seen handing out life jackets and helping soldiers into the water, eventually giving up their own life jackets to save other men. Survivors of the Dorchester, of which there were only 230 out of 904, recall seeing the four men standing arm-in-arm on the ship as it went down, praying and singing hymns. The chaplains all went down with the Dorchester.

As a testament to the universality of faith, some survivors later recalled they could hear different languages mixed in the prayers of the chaplains, including Jewish prayers in Hebrew and Catholic prayers in Latin.

As Father Washington was a priest at Saint Stephen's beginning in 1938, Four Chaplains' Day is deeply entrenched in the history of the parish. There is a statue of the four men outside, as well as a chapel within the church dedicated in their honor.

This year's Catholic Mass took place on the 80th anniversary of the sinking, with members of Rabbi Godde and Father Washington's family in attendance, along with descendants of survivors of the Dorchester.

"They gave not only their [life] jackets, but their lives ... true faith is when one gives of himself for another," spoke the officiant of the mass, Auxiliary Bishop Gregory Studerus during his homily.

Each year, veterans,' and patriotic groups from around the area are invited to attend the mass. Each group, which ranges from the VFW to the Catholic War Veterans to the American Legion to the Boy Scouts, files into the church behind a Kearny Police colorguard, followed by a mass of other flags and banners. Entering the standing-room only church to "Procession Alegre," everyone in attendance cannot help but be in awe of the pomp and pageantry which this mass is given.

To the majestic music of the church's organ, to the choral renditions of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," to the St. Columcille United Gaelic Pipe Band playing "God Bless America," this mass rooted in patriotism truly honors the sacrifice of the Four Chaplains by keeping their story alive. Perhaps one of the more moving moments of the mass was the playing of the hymn "No Greater Love" during communion, which speaks to the Immortal Chaplain's story with the words "... there is no greater love, says the Lord, then to lay down your life for a friend."

The Post 105 American Legion Family always is deeply honored to be invited to attend. This year, perhaps 20 members from the Post were at Saint Stephen's, many of whom had not ever heard of the Four Chaplains before two weeks ago. "I just thought it was absolutely beautiful," said American Legion Auxiliary member Jackie Elsmore. "Honestly, I didn't know [about the Four Chaplain's]," noted Post 105 Legionnaire Elsie Cruz, a Navy veteran herself. "To be a part of this – especially for the young people – it's showing them to honor people who make sacrifices... to honor their own history." The young people Cruz speaks of are Boy Scout Troop 305, who, sponsored by this church, have adopted the Four Chaplains as their patron, wearing their image on their uniforms and neckerchiefs.

Generations of descendants of the troops on that ship, some of whom were in attendance at this 80th Anniversary of the sinking, owe their lives to the selflessness of these four, and their love for their brother man. American Legion Post and Squadron 105 are proud and humbled they could be part of honoring that legacy.

Sons of The American Legion Squadron 105 helps the homeless

Rusty Myers, Squadron 105 Adjutant | February 4, 2022

NEWARK, NJ – Belleville's Sons of the American Legion (SAL) Squadron 105 organized a trip on a Saturday morning to go down to Newark to help the homeless, by handing out blankets, jackets, and bags full of sandwiches, cookies, and water on what ended up being the coldest day of the year.

"We went down there with a car full of jackets and sandwiches, and came back with nothing," noted project officer Vinnie Ferriole, who planned the event with his wife. At a meeting in December of the Squadron, he presented his idea of doing something to help the homeless during the winter in the area. He was given the go-ahead by Squadron 105 Commander Steve Sangemino ... "you're the chairman now. run with it".

Over the next few weeks, he collected items to do just that. American Legion Crawford-Crews Post 251 in Montclair held a coat giveaway in January, with winterwear generously provided by Ocean State Job Lot to handout. They provided two cases of brand-new winter jackets. Members from the Post 105 Family provided jackets and blankets as well – others donated cookies, and the Post donated bottles of water. The night before, members made PB&J's – Lisa Bocchino noted afterward "We sat and made 22 sandwiches in an hour".

On a day when it was three degrees out, members of the Squadron and Post got together and made the ten-minute trip "Down Neck," as Newark's Ironbound section is called locally. Advised by Newark Police to pull up to Peter Francesco Park right behind Newark Penn Station, the two trucks of members pulled up and hopped out to hand everything out. Almost immediately, over fifty people ran up and formed a line. The contents of the two cars was emptied in under five minutes.

Unfortunately, even in the terribly frigid temperatures last week in New Jersey, so many people were living outside in the elements. In what can only be described as heartbreaking, what the Squadron provided wasn't nearly enough to help those in line who needed it, running out of jackets and sandwiches almost immediately.

Of those in line were a mother and a little girl of probably six years old. In a moment that speaks to the true giving nature of the American Legion Family, Melody Ciresi, who is a member of the American Legion Auxiliary group seeking a charter at Belleville Post 105, gave the little girl the gloves off her hands. "You don't know how blessed you are, until you go down there" she later noted.

"I'm just glad to be a part of something where we help people, and make a difference," noted new SAL member Ron Planer, on one of the first events he participated in. Ferriole, who has also run a number of the Squadron's cancer fundraisers in the past, said after returning to the Post how "thankful I am for everybody who helped – we learned a lot about how to do this next time ... and we're going to do this again."

Pennsylvania Legion Riders stage fundraiser for family of daughter awaiting heart transplant

The American Legion | February 1, 2023

When Robin Weaver took over as director of American Legion Riders Chapter 101 in Carlisle, Pa., she made it clear she wanted the chapter to be a service for its community. That approach was on full display recently, benefiting a family dealing with a very difficult medical situation in the process.

On Jan. 28, Chapter 101 staged a fundraiser that netted more than $7,200 for the family of Harmonee Washington. The 6-year-old Harmonee has an enlarged heart with blood clots and is forced to stay at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia to use a ventricular assist device machine to help pump blood throughout her body while she waits for a transplant.

Harmonee's father, Charles Washington, is a firefighter at Carlisle Fire & Rescue Services, and makes a more than five-hour round-trip drive each week to visit his daughter at the hospital. Chapter 101 learned about their situation through a member who also works at Carlisle Fire & Rescue Services.

"I've always been somebody who helps other. I'd give the shirt off my back to someone," said Weaver, a member of Auxiliary Unit 101 and the wife of Post 101 Commander Doug Weaver. "When I became the Riders director here, I told everybody my main goal – and I hoped they felt the same way – was that we were here to help our veterans, their families, and our community. So, when I heard about (Harmonee), I didn't even skip a beat. We were on it. That's just who I want our Riders to be."

The post hosted a Hope for Harmonee fundraiser that featured a "fill the wheelbarrow" event where participants could donate money to assist the Washington family. There also was a raffle that contribute to the impressive total raised.

In addition to Chapter 101, Legion Riders from Chambersburg Chapter 46, Greencastle Chapter 373, Newville Chapter 421, Fort Loudon Chapter 606, and Lickdale Chapter 910 also showed up to offer their support to the cause.

"I was shocked," Weaver said. "I didn't set a donation goal. But the amount of support from the other Legion Riders who came was out of this world. It was heart-warming, to say the least. I told every single one of them that we will definitely pay that forward. That's just who I want our Riders to be. That's my goal."

Harmonee's father said he was moved by the Riders' effort. "It lets us know that we're not alone in this fight," he told The Sentinel. "There are people out here that really care now. It's like when you think you have no support, you really do."

Weaver said Charles was surprised when the Riders reached out. "He thought the family was alone," she said. "When we reached out to him, he was pretty much flabbergasted. He couldn't believe perfect strangers were going to help his family.

"To be honest, the night of the fundraiser, we brought him up to speak. He might have gotten seven words out and he was done. Just the overwhelming response of everybody who showed up, and talking about his daughter, he just couldn't get anything out. He was very honored."

Make plans to honor military children

What are you planning for April's Month of the Military Child and Purple UP! Day? Military children face unique challenges and make sacrifices. To recognize this, April is designated as the Month of the Military Child (#MOMC), and April 15 is Purple Up! Day.

During the month of April, plan special events and activities for the military children in your community.

On Purple Up! Day, everyone can wear purple to show support for military children and raise awareness of their sacrifices. Purple symbolizes a combination of the colors of each branch of the U.S. military: Army green, Navy blue, Air Force blue, Marine red, and Coast Guard blue.

We'd love to hear what you have planned. Send us an email.

ALWS Road to Hope 5K moving to April

The American Legion | February 3, 2023

In an effort to draw more runners in the annual Road to Hope 5K, organizers have moved the race — annually the opening event of the 7th Inning Stretch Festival before the American Legion World Series — from August to April.

This year's Road to Hope 5K will take place April 29 in Shelby, N.C., the permanent home of the ALWS.

"The heat and humidity in August are oppressive and can be dangerous," said Kim Davis, media director for the festival, related events and the ALWS. "We're hoping the April date will draw more runners and therefore, more contributions to Road to Hope Shelby."

Proceeds from race registration and related sponsorships go to Road to Hope Shelby, a 529-mile bike ride from Shelby to Washington, D.C., held annually each May. The ride ends at the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial, which lists the names of law enforcement officers killed in the line of duty.

This year's 5K will be the 10th annual race affiliated with the 7th Inning Stretch Festival and the ALWS.

The 7th Inning Stretch Festival will take place Aug. 5, the Saturday before the 96th American Legion World Series, Aug. 10-15.

Howard Jerome "Howie" Jock, "Sakohawitha," Bear Clan, 55, of Akwesasne

AKWESASNE (WWNY) - Howard Jerome "Howie" Jock, "Sakohawitha," Bear Clan, 55, Akwesasne, Ontario passed away surrounded by his family on February 4, 2023 after a brief illness.

Howie was born on February

20, 1967, the son of the late Ann (Chubb) and Edgar Jock. He was the youngest son of the "Jock Boys" and yet still like a big brother to so many people he met along the way.

Howie was a doer and didn't sit idle for too long. He was always helping someone out with whatever they needed. His passion was heavy machine work and family. He loved traveling, the Buffalo Bills, Boston Bruins, visiting with family, hosting get togethers, hanging out with "the bags" and "the boys." He was known for his jokester ways and giving you the shirt off his back. He never thought twice about jumping in to help someone and did it wherever he went – even on vacation. He lived life large and loved even larger. Many stories of him being in the right place at the right time to help people are often told.

He was a member of the Sons of the American Legion Squadron 1479 and a volunteer fireman with the Hogansburg Akwesasne Fire Department for many years. He was the proud owner/operator of Jock's Excavating. He was also a former member of the Local 440 and worked at Bear's Den for several years.

Howie is survived by his wife and lifelong companion, Maureen Thompson; his five children, Theo Mitchell (lakokatste), Truman (Alexandria), Tori (Hank), Taelor, and Thomas Jock, all of Akwesasne; four grandchildren, Awenniserahthe, Wentiioh, Kahetiioh and was greatly anticipating his fifth in July; and a chosen grandson Creed.

He is also survived his eight brothers and 6 sisters, Warren Jock, Carol Thompson, both of Akwesasne, Dave (Frances) Jock of Kingston, Barbara (Larry) Mitchell, Kathy White, also of Akwesasne, Harriet (Joe) Cheek of Mississippi, Mike Jock of Akwesasne, Mark (Maxine) Jock of Florida, Alvin (Caroline) of Akwesane, Connie (Jerome) Gibson of Syracuse, Roger (Diane) Jock, Glen (Lisa) Jock, Nelson (Donna) Jock, and Patricia (Troy) Barnes, all of Akwesasne; a chosen siblings, Stanley Thompson, Kenny Perkins, Robin Tarbell, Jerry Gambill, Dean George, Jane George, Joy Jock, Boo Mitchell and Margaret LaFrance. He is also survived by his wife's family, Timmy Thompson (Becca), Luke Thompson, Roger Thompson (Peggy), Robert Thompson (LucyAnn), Norris Thompson (Sylvia), Velma Cook (Leon), Ruth Seymour, Lucille Cook (Ronnie), Stephanie Thompson (Harvey Delormier), his faithful canine companion, Charlie "Chucky," so many nieces, nephews, and cousins – too numerous to count.

He was predeceased by his parents Ann and Edgar, his father and mother-in-law, James and Esther Thompson; a sister-in-law, Patricia Jock; and his brothers-in-law, Angus "Um" Boots, Angus White, Danny Thompson, and John Square.

Friends may call at his home, 2 James Thompson Road on Wednesday beginning at 4:00 PM until 1:00 PM Thursday followed by visitation at the Indian Way Longhouse, Jock Road, beginning at 3:00 PM until the time of his service on Friday at 11:00 AM. Burial will follow the services in Jock Road Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, those wishing may consider memorial contributions to be made in his memory to the Sons of the American Legion Squadron 1479.

Arrangements are under the care and guidance of the Donaldson Funeral Home, Massena, where friends may share memories and offer condolences online at www.donaldsonfh.com.

As Spring is rapidly approaching, so are district meetings, detachment conventions will begin, and the NEC meeting is right around the corner. And let's not forget the Washington Conference at the end of the month. Many of us will be traveling to attend these meetings and events, as well as continuing to work hard at their squadrons.

People's schedules will also get busy with youth sports, events at school, Valentine's Day, St. Patrick's Day, Easter, Armed Forces Day, Memorial Day and many, many other things going on.

With all of this in mind, I would ask readers to be patient and understanding if some of our editions of Round-Up are delayed or combined. The goal of this publication is to get pertinent information out in a timely manner, and effort will be made to continue.

As a reminder, anyone who has information to share should email to me, and I will take care of the rest.

Attendance is open to Sons, as well as to Legionnaires and members of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The event flyer appears later in this edition.

With legislative victory comes responsibility
February 8, 2023

Dear American Legion Family Members and Friends,

Following a successful year of legislative victories, The American Legion is continuing to press for necessary changes that benefit all veterans, servicemembers and their families.

Among our key legislative priorities for the new Congress are ones calling for:

- Implementing what's outlined in the PACT Act. The American Legion urges Congress to provide necessary oversight and funding to ensure VA has the resources needed to properly implement this landmark legislation that will help more than 3.5 million veterans affected by toxic contamination.
- Decreasing the rate of veteran suicide. The American Legion encourages Congress to enhance access to alternative therapies, robustly fund VA's suicide-prevention outreach budget and continue to invest in mentalhealth research.
- Supporting our Afghanistan allies. The American Legion urges Congress to reintroduce and pass legislation that would grant permanent legal status to Afghan refugees and improve the Special Immigrant Visa process for Afghans who served alongside U.S. servicemembers.

Those are just a few of The American Legion's priorities, which are outlined here. You can also download and share this brochure that lays out the priorities.

Soon, I will be presenting The American Legion's legislative priorities to a joint session of the Senate and House Committees on Veterans' Affairs. The presentation is scheduled for 10 a.m. Eastern Wednesday, March 1. Tune in to legion.org to watch live or view a replay.

In the meantime, there are other ways you can help drive awareness toward our legislative goals.

Visit legion.org/washingtonconference for guidance on how to engage your lawmakers, the Know Before You Go presentation, the legislative agenda and more resources.

You can also participate in our grassroots advocacy via The American Legion's Grassroots Action Center. It offers information to stay informed on the issues and tools to communicate online with lawmakers and the media about our priorities.

Thank you for what you do, virtually and in person, every day to improve the lives of our fellow veterans, service-members and their families.

Vincent "Jim" Troiola, National Commander The American Legion

China makes accusations The American Legion | February 6, 2023

China on Monday accused the United States of indiscriminate use of force in shooting down a suspected Chinese spy balloon, saying it "seriously impacted and damaged both sides' efforts and progress in stabilizing Sino-U.S. relations." The U.S. shot down the balloon off the Carolina coast after it traversed sensitive military sites across North America. China insisted the flyover was an accident involving a civilian aircraft.

Round-Up

The American Legion is the voice of Panearly 1.6 million U.S. military veterans Pand servicemembers. A resolution-based with organization, The American Legion's the positions represent the views of its to membership and shape the organization's expending and shape the organization's Panearle Priorities for the 118th Congress:

Mental Health & Suicide Prevention

The leading issue facing the veteran community is suicide. The suicide rate among veterans is nearly double that of their civilian counterparts, with more than 6,000 veterans taking their lives annually. It is imperative to destigmatize asking for mental health support. Simultaneously, access to such support must increase. The American Legion encourages Congress to enhance access to alternative therapies, robustly fund VA's suicide-prevention outreach budget and continue to invest in mental-health research.

VA Healthcare Modernization

The future of VA healthcare is as a hybrid system consisting of Veterans Health Administration-provided inpatient and outpatient care, telehealth and community care. Ensuring VA is equipped to meet the unique needs of an increasingly diverse veteran population requires that VA fully leverage all healthcare modalities and ensure a seamless transition between them. Modernizing electronic health records, veteran-centric access standards, and a transparent online scheduling system for VHA-provided care and community care alike are all essential to ensuring veterans receive the care they deserve. The means by which VA delivers care may change, but one thing will not: VA should continue to provide the best care anywhere to our nation's veterans.

PACT Act: Implementation & Oversight

Passage of the SFC Heath Robinson PACT Act in the 117th modernization of information technology systems, as well substantial backlogs of hundreds of thousands of claims as the hiring of additional employees to ensure veterans claims are adjudicated in a timely manner. The American to 7 million new disability claims filed, due to eligibility and funding to ensure VA has the resources needed to Legion urges Congress to provide necessary oversight backlog will increase to 450,000 by October 2023. Concurrent Receipt Currently, 50,300 military retirees with combatrelated injuries qualify for DoD retirement pay as well as VA disability compensation. However, for retired veterans with disability ratings less than 50%, the VA compensation is deducted from their DoD retirement pay. The American Legion strongly supports ending this unfair policy. The Major Richard Star Act would repeal this draconian offset, allowing disabled veterans to concurrently receive their retirement pay and disability compensation.

Guard & Reserve GI Bill Parity

Despite the same duties, National Guard and Reserve servicemembers are deprived of education benefits that active-duty servicemembers enjoy. According to current law, National Guard and Reserve servicemembers only accrue GI Bill entitlement when called to active duty under federal orders. When National Guard and Reserve servicemembers are activated under state orders, they do not accrue eligibility for Post 9/11 GI Bill benefits, as do their active-duty counterparts. The American Legion believes that every day in uniform counts and urges Congress to recognize the service of National Guard and Reserve servicemembers as eligible for the GI Bill.

GI Bill for Honorable Service

To receive most VA benefits, a veteran's characterization of discharge from service must be "under honorable conditions." However, education assistance benefits within the GI Bill, require that servicemembers receive an "honorable discharge." If the characterization of service is "general under honorable conditions," the Post-9/11 GI Bill remains out of reach for these veterans. The American Legion urges Congress to correct this statutory incongruity by amending U.S. Code to allow access to VA educational assistance to veterans with "general under honorable conditions" discharges.
